Information and advice

Remember the reports in this bulletin are only a snap shot of reported equine related crime from around the country. Not all the counties, police or Horsewatch schemes forward information. Don't ever be complacent and believe that just because no information has been received that there has been no crime!

Don't forget that the telephone number to call the police in England and Wales is 101

When to call 101?

Kindly brought to our attention by Sussex Police
Protect your mobile phone

Although the advice is directed towards Sussex residents the advice and warning is generic and should be read and considered by everyone.

During May there were several thefts of mobile phones across Sussex. Most of these occurred due to careless owners leaving them on tables in public places, then being distracted by someone whilst the phone is stolen, normally by an accomplice.

This message is just a reminder to all those who carry a mobile phone regularly. Crowded public places such as shopping areas and restaurants are ideal environments for pickpockets and thieves to operate. They can dip in and steal items without you even noticing. Read our advice below and make sure you don't give them the opportunity.

- Do not leave your purse or phone in trolleys or baskets. This makes it an easy target for thieves.
- When paying for goods try not to expose large amounts of cash or place your phone, wallet or purse on the counter.
- Do not carry phones, wallets or purses etc. in easily accessible places. Ensure they are at the bottom of bags or pockets.
- When eating in restaurants or cafes, place bags under the table between your feet or thread the strap through the chair leg.
- If you do leave your phone on a table whilst out and someone you do not know approaches you, ensure you have hold of it.
- We also recommend registering your phone on Immobilise.com, a national property database which makes it easier for your phone to be returned to you if stolen or lost. The database is FREE and used by all Police Forces in the UK. We also recommend security marking your phone with a UV marker pen, which Police can supply free of charge. Alternatively, come along to one of our security marking events (Operation Marker) to have your property marked. We'll even register you to Immobilise. Keep an eye on our website to find out when our next event is, we will also send out one of these messages to let you know.

Western Country Watch Weekly – 24 May 2012

Please be aware of a national emerging trend involving the theft of Row Crop wheels. These wheels are thinner than standard wheels but allow tractors to be fitted easier into curtain sided lorries. The theft of these may be going unnoticed due to their seasonal use and the fact that some farms have several sets that can be left unused for long periods. Their theft may also be seen as trivial or unreported but it may be fuelling more serious and organised crime. Please take the opportunity to check that yours are still where you left them.

On Wednesday I attended the Force-wide Rural Issues Group which aims to provide a forum for practitioners to meet and discuss best practice ideas. It was clear from the meeting that over the last twelve months Hampshire Constabulary has made huge advances in terms of service delivery to rural communities. Thank you all for your assistance in reporting incidents that previously would not have been reported.

Also at the above meeting discussion took place relating to the deployment of cameras on private land. I know many of you are interested in this area and there has been much confusion previously about what the Police can and cannot do. A request has been made for clarification surrounding Force Policy as there seems to be slight differences in its interpretation by various officers across the Force area.

As the weather improves and people take advantage of the great outdoors, please be mindful that the criminals will also be making the most of opportunities presented to them. It is very tempting with the warm weather to leave windows open whilst away from home. This is an open invitation to a would-be-thief. Please ensure windows are left locked on the latch so they cannot be opened wide enough for someone to climb through. The majority of burglars gain entry to houses through insecure doors and windows.

Enjoy the sunshine, but stay safe.

Louise.

Sergeant 483 Hubble.

NORTHERN COUNTRY WATCH WEEKLY – 25 May 2012

New Country Watch officer for the Basingstoke Rural area

For those of you who live in the Basingstoke rural area you will be please to hear a replacement for PC Lee Coleshill has now been recruited to the team. PC Steve Rogerson was selected to take on the role. He will be leaving his current role as a rural safer neighbourhood officer in the Tadley area to join our team in a couple of weeks. We look forward to welcoming him.

WITH YOUR HELP

- After a non dwelling burglary to a farm building in the Tadley area where farm equipment was stolen, local targeted patrol officers located the vehicle that had been seen during the offence at Paices Hill caravan park and the offenders made off on foot. The property from the burglary was recovered from the vehicle, subsequent enquiries have identified possible offenders and arrests are imminent.
- A Transit van spotted on the A31 by the Country Watch PCSOs , towing a 4x4 vehicle was stopped by targeted patrol officers. The Transit driver was fined for no insurance and the person in charge of the 4x4, who was a provisional licence holder, was reported for no insurance and driving otherwise in accordance with a licence.
- A male suspected of stealing fuel in the Weyhill area of Hampshire has been arrested in Wiltshire. Enquiries by Hampshire officers are still ongoing at this time.
- As many of you will be aware, the Wickham horse fair was held over the weekend. This event is held annually in May and dates back to the 13th century when it was granted a royal charter. Country Watch officers and Equine Liaison officers were involved in the policing operation for this event. There were a few minor incidents which are currently being investigated. However, generally the event passed off peacefully and was enjoyed by all. It was well attended by members of the travelling community and local Hampshire residents. It was nice to see so many Country Watch members attending and supporting this historical event.

Reported rural crime

Crime reports UK. All reported crime can be viewed by logging on to the Crime reports website where any crime reported in Hampshire will be shown. This is good news as it gives you the freedom to check on reported crime at any time to suit you. If you require any help or advice on how to access the information on this web site please contact the Country Watch Team.

Hampshire Police UK is the official Hampshire Constabulary web site. Details of your local Safer Neighbourhood Teams (SNT) can be found on this, along with other information in relation to Hampshire Constabulary. FOR YOUR INFORMATION

- Country Watch Inspector on Twitter! - Many of you are already children of the social networking revolution and are using Twitter, and many of you are not yet but may have thought about having a go. Well now is a good time to start as you can now follow the Country Watch Inspector, at Twitter@InspChrisW. Please log on and take a look, I am sure he will appreciate your feed back.
- Theft of Poultry - For those of you who keep poultry, please be aware we are receiving reports of chickens and cockerels being stolen across the northern area of Hampshire from gardens and small holdings. On some occasions it is just the birds being stolen but it has also been known for the poultry houses to be taken as well. Please be vigilant, try to place the houses and birds in a location where they are not visible to the public, in an area that will be easily monitored from your premises. Please report any suspicious activity to the police via the 101 number.
- Theft of staddle stones - Over the weekend we have had several reports of staddle stones being stolen from rural residential properties. Although they are heavy, they can be easily and quickly removed and difficult to identify once stolen. If you have staddle stones in your garden, please consider security marking them. It is possible to postcode them by etching your postcode on the underside of the base and the top, which would not spoil the ascetics of the item but make it identifiable if it is stolen.
- Bank holiday weekend rave prevention - with the bank holiday coming up please be aware of the potential of raves being held across the area. Please be vigilant, report any rave related activity to the police on 101. It is easier to prevent the raves from happening by early intervention than it is to stop them once they have started. Prevention is always better than cure.
- Animal poisoning - there have been recent reports in the surrounding counties that food laced with poison is being left in areas frequented by dog walkers. It is believed this is intended to poison wildlife but reports of dogs being poisoned have also been received. So far the reports have all been in surrounding force areas and we have not received any such reports in Hampshire, but we ask that you remain vigilant when walking your dogs in rural areas, particularly heath land, and report any suspicious activity to the police on 101.

NORTHERN COUNTRY WATCH AREA EXTENDED

It has been accepted that there are pockets of rural areas in Fareham, Gosport, Park Gate and Hayling Island which should be included in the country watch scheme. Due to the geography of Hampshire these areas have now been taken on by the northern Hampshire country watch team. This does make our area even larger than before. Therefore we have recruited four other officers, on a part time basis, who are based in each of the areas. These officers will continue in their current role on a day to day basis but will also assist with any Country Watch matters which occur within their areas. The Hayling Island area will be covered by PCSO 12626 Jane Peacock, the Park Gate area will be covered by PCSO 14474 Tammi Ley, the Fareham area will be covered by PC 3753 James Heath and the Gosport area will be covered by PC 1882 Joseph Sankey. We welcome them to our team and look forward to extending our membership in these areas.

WITH YOUR HELP

- You may recall from last weeks email we reported on the male arrested by Wiltshire Police for theft of fuel in the Weyhill area. After an extensive investigation by Andover Targeted patrol officers, Andover CID and CSI the male has been charged with Conspiracy to Steal from Motor Vehicles from 1 January 2012 to 20 May 2012 and remanded in custody. A good job well done by all involved!
- Targeted patrol officers and Country Watch officers were involved in the arrest of a male for theft of fish in the Stockbridge area. The male pleaded guilty to the offence in court earlier this month, he was fined £230 and ordered to pay £85 compensation.
- Targeted patrol officers from Farnborough arrested two males for the theft of lead after they were reported being seen on the roof of a derelict house in the Blackwater area. Enquiries are ongoing.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

Message on behalf of British Transport Police - A large number of commuters who work in London travel from the counties surrounding it. With this in mind we would like to get our message across to them regarding the risk of pickpockets. The website link shows some short videos demonstrating ways pickpockets target people, which, we hope, will make people more aware of the potential risks when travelling on the London Underground. Link: www.btp.police.uk/pickpockets

Theft of catalytic converters

Please be aware that there is an ongoing trend for the theft of catalytic converters from vehicles throughout the Hampshire area. There are few security measures you can take in relation to these types of thefts other than to park your vehicle in a locked garage or building if at all possible. Aide Automotive Ltd offer anti theft alarms and serial number identification labelling for catalytic converters. If you are interested in this type of crime prevention method you can read more on their products at:

Western Country Watch Weekly – 31 May 2012

This has been another busy week for the Country Watch team. On Friday Alan and I visited Dorset Police for liaison/networking meeting to discuss rural policing. We shared many ideas of good practice and have identified ways that the two forces can better work together to target rural criminals.

We were a little late arriving for the above meeting as I came across an injured deer on the way to work. It had been hit hard by a vehicle and left injured at the roadside. Concerned members of the public stopped to assist and a humane dispatcher was called. Anyone found guilty of such a hit and run incident will be prosecuted for causing unnecessary suffering.

I have also had a meeting with Hampshire and IOW Air Ambulance this week. Funding has been secured through partnerships to support the Equine Rider Safety Campaign. Leaflets are in the process of being printed for distribution throughout the area.

On Wednesday evening I took a group of Junior PCSOs from Totton to a Nature Reserve. They undertook a nature walk with a conservation officer and sat in bird hides watching avocets and their chicks, swans and cygnets, great black backed gulls, coots, pheasants, hares and a roe buck resting in

NORTHERN COUNTRY WATCH WEEKLY
WITH YOUR HELP

- Over the last week, country watch officers were involved in Operation Harmattan, a rural crime operation targeting areas in North Hampshire. During the operation the team were impressed on the security they saw, locked gates, closed yards and security lighting in some of the most remote places across our district. During the operation two males were arrested and their vehicle seized by country watch officers for 'Night Hawking' in the early hours of the morning in fields adjacent to the A33. Night Hawking is trespassing on land to steal historical artefacts found by using metal detectors.

When identifiable property is reported stolen it can be placed on the NMPR allowing officers to check any property they locate and suspect may be stolen, to check it against the database; hence, highlighting the importance of keeping a record of serial numbers or security marking your property. It allows officers to search for property by serial numbers to identify the registered owners and whether an item is stolen. They can then contact the owner to return stolen goods and investigate any criminal activity relating to the property.

The NMPR can be searched by forces all over the UK including Scotland and Northern Ireland. As a member of the public, you can register your identifiable property by obtaining a FREE account at www.immobilise.com this will make your property viewable by the Police.

Warning – rogue traders

Rogue traders are currently cold calling in the Farnborough and neighbouring areas of Hampshire, offering to conduct roof inspections and any subsequent repairs which are deemed necessary.

Information received would indicate that false and misleading claims are being made by the trader in order to secure work. In particular, the trader is falsely advising homeowners that due to changes in the law, any house built before 1970 must have a roof inspection carried out. The trader explains that although the inspection is free of charge, any repair work which is necessary will obviously attract a fee. Trading Standards want to assure residents that any claims being mentioned about the legal requirement to have a roof inspected are completely untrue and should be disregarded.

Trading Standards would advise consumers not to agree to work that is instigated as a result of a cold call or via a leaflet drop. Consumers should obtain at least 3 written quotes from reputable businesses or traders who are either members of the Hampshire County Council Trading Standards Buy With Confidence Scheme or a recognised trade association.

Members of the Buy With Confidence scheme are fully audited to ensure their trading practices are legal, honest and fair. All members have been checked for trustworthiness and compliance with consumer protection laws. Details can be obtained by telephoning 01962 833620, emailing buy.with.confidence@hants.gov.uk or via the website www.buywithconfidence.gov.uk

Traders who agree work at the home of an individual or at a place other than their usual business premises are required by law to provide consumers with a Notice of Right to Cancel, which gives consumers a 7 day cooling off period. Work should not commence until this period has ended, unless written agreement is obtained from that consumer beforehand.

If anyone has any information about traders who are cold calling or requires any advice on doorstep crime they can contact Hampshire County Council's Quick Response Team on 01962 833666 (Monday . Friday 0900hrs to 1700hrs) where specially trained officers are on hand to provide advice. If assistance is required outside of these hours please contact Hampshire Police on their non-urgent number 101 or dial999 if you feel threatened or intimidated.

The vehicle has extensive front end damage, but is still driveable. If anyone has seen a vehicle fitting this description, please contact PC Geoff Bennett by dialling 101 or email on: geoffrey.bennett@sussex.pnn.police.uk

Jubilee bank holiday weekend raves “Operation Allegro”

Appeal for Information

With the upcoming Jubilee bank holiday weekend Sussex Police are asking members of the public to be alert to any possible rave related activity. This could include:

- the removal of locks from secured access points
- vehicles, particularly panel vans or larger, driving off road
- groups of vehicles congregating in rural areas
- convoys of vehicles
- loud music from remote woodland

Please report any such activity on the Sussex Police non emergency number of 101 as soon as possible,

Date 16 June 2012

quoting OPERATION ALLEGRO. By receiving early warnings, Sussex Police have a much better chance of disrupting the rave and dispersing those responsible for its organisation.

Extra patrols will be mounted over the Bank holiday weekend and any early intelligence of rave activity gained from members of the public will be passed to these patrols as soon as it is received.

Suspicious incident – Beckley

Crime Ref: 1299 30 May 2012

Overnight Tuesday/Wednesday the figure of a man was seen at a stable yard attached to a house in Beckley near Rye. A powerful torch was shone from the house and the security lights came on, a search was made but nothing could be found. Next morning the neighbour came over to say at 12.15 am their daughter had seen a torch by the stables.

Theft of tools – West Hoathly

Crime Ref: 0453

In the late hours of Friday 1 June a classic car restoration garage in the West Hoathly area was broken into and 1 large red and 1 large black 'SNAP ON' tool cabinets were stolen. Inside the tool cabinets were numerous specialised tools designed for use on the vintage cars. It is believed a white van was involved therefore if you saw any suspicious activity involving a white van in the local area please call Sussex Police on 101 and quote serial 0453.

Suspicious vehicle - N791LDG - Sharpthorne

A white Ford Transit high sided lorry seen Station Road, Sharpthorne on the 11 June. with 3 males inside paying over the top attention to vehicles in the road - this is viewed with suspicion due to the thefts in the area.

Shed break – Scaynes Hill

Crime Ref: 356 – 9/6

A shed was broken into in Sloop Lane, Scaynes Hill overnight 8-9/6. Alloy wheels and tyres were stolen from outside. At 1715 hours on 12/6 two males acting suspiciously were seen walking down a farm drive in Sloop Lane. Male 1 described as a black male, early 20s, 5ft 9, slim build, wearing a baseball cap, dark top and jeans, male 2 is described as white, 20s, 5ft8, slim build, short blond hair, wearing a dark top and jeans.

Don't shed a tear over stolen goods – get an alarm

The arrival of summer brings with it a rise in opportunities for thieves who target poorly secured sheds. Expensive items such as lawn mowers and power tools can be at risk and the Mid Sussex Community Safety Partnership is keen to help residents protect their property.

The Community Safety Partnership wants to give local people an affordable way to sound the alarm should anyone try to get into their shed. Residents are being offered the chance to purchase shed alarms at a reduced rate of £7.00, which is £11 cheaper than the normal retail price of £18.00. This relatively inexpensive item will help residents to protect their belongings and keep crime levels low in the District. The discounted shed alarms are available to buy from Town Council Help Points in Burgess Hill, East Grinstead and Haywards Heath.

Residents are also being encouraged to take a few simple steps that will help to keep their shed safe and secure;

Hampshire Horsewatch Bulletin
(Incorporating Information From Around The Country)

Date 16 June 2012

- “ Use a good quality padlock or mortice lock on the door of your shed
- “ Protect the boundary and access to your garden with fences, walls and lockable gates
- “ Make sure the door panel on your shed is strong enough
- “ Put up security lighting around your shed
- “ Lock valuable items together to prevent them being removed easily
- “ Help to track your property by registering it for FREE at www.immobilise.com

Councillor Christopher Snowling, Mid Sussex District Council Cabinet Member for Health and Community, said: “Crime prevention measures, such as using a shed alarm, are an easy way for residents to help us keep crime levels low in our District and will ensure Mid Sussex continues to be one of the safest places in the county to live, work and visit.”

For more information about crime prevention in Mid Sussex, contact the Mid Sussex District Council Community Safety team on 01444 477550 or email communitysafety@midsussex.gov.uk.

Wild stallions

Dinty from Brownbread Horse Rescue has requested the following message be circulated for benefit of Sussex horse riders.

Please advise riders in the Ashburnham area (that is between Battle and Hailsham) riding along Lakehurst Lane and the Furnace that there are wild stallions living in the area posing a danger to mares. The charity has been trying to contain these stallions for months but they are very determined and extremely clever. If anyone has any suggestions as to how we can end this menace we would be pleased to hear.

Title: SUSPICIOUS MALES OFFERING TARMAC SERVICES

Over the last two days several properties in the Mid Sussex area have been visited by males offering various driveway services from tarmac to 'top dressing'. The properties visited tend to be large and fairly isolated. Some have been residential, others have been farms.

Two different vehicles have been sighted, one a small white van with 'Highway Maintenance' written on the side. The other a silver Vauxhall Vectra, registration DV58 EHB.

On each occasion various back stories have been given ranging from "we have some tarmac left over" to 'we have been working at your neighbours/at the next village'.

Please report any sightings of these males and their vehicles to police on 101.
