Information & Advice

Make Your Home BurglarProof with New App

North Yorkshire Police has launched an on-line app to help you make sure you don't become the victim of burglars. BurglarProof is a quick and easy step-by-step guide to help you assess your home's security. A quarter of all burglaries are carried out by opportunist thieves taking advantage of an unlocked door or window. Homes that don't have basic security devices, such as window locks and sturdy door locks, are far more likely to be broken into.

Burglar Proof features:

- a comprehensive home security self-assessment tool
- a holiday checklist to give you peace of mind when you're away from home
- video tips from North Yorkshire Police officers
- in-depth guides giving you professional, detailed advice on every aspect of home security

Tom Stirling is the Digital Media Officer for North Yorkshire Police who developed the BurglarProof web app. He said: "We developed the app in response to a number of burglaries at insecure properties, which have occurred during the recent spell of warm weather. The aim of the web app is to make checking your home's security as easy as possible. At North Yorkshire Police we are taking advantage of the latest developments in technology, and using innovative ways of employing it, to help people prevent themselves becoming the victims of crime. The app has been developed at no cost to the force. So if only stops one person from becoming the victim of crime, it has been a worthwhile effort."

Detective Chief Inspector Paul Sweeting, said: "This app is a great way for people to ensure that their homes are as secure as possible. I urge people to download the app and take the security survey, to help secure their homes from thieves."

To access the app, visit the NYP App Store at www.northyorkshire.police.uk/appstore or visit burglarproof.nyp.mobi from any smartphone or tablet.

Sussex Horsewatch

The below message was received from Sussex Horsewatch having been circulated to its members.

The message is valid anywhere.....report all crime and incidents.

Well dare I say it, but all seems quiet, however don't let that fool you into relaxing your attention to security.

Remember, no matter how small a crime is PLEASE report it. If you don't, the police can only assume that no crime is taking place in your area. Whilst the police may not visit the crime scene (due to cut backs, unless there is forensic evidence, there is little point visiting the scene) it may fit in with other crimes in the area.

Advice received from Thames Valley Horsewatch

WARNING TO HORSE AND DOG OWNERS

A 4 month old puppy was seen at a veterinary practice this morning with sudden onset blindness. It turns out that she had probably licked from a bucket containing Ivermectin horse wormer. Obviously the strength of the wormer means even a small amount can be a toxic dose for a small puppy. Please take care with your horse wormers, and wash out any buckets straight after you have administered any medication. Keep your dogs away from horse feed with medication in, and hopefully we can avoid this happening again.

road so it is out of sight. Locks have then been forced on the two stables and offenders have stolen the following from within (unfortunately at this time it doesn't state the colour of the saddles taken).

- 2x Utility Batteries (used for electric fence)
- Battery charging unit
- Karcher Power Washer
- Horse saddle
- Pony Saddle

A suspicious male that was confronted when walking past the stables at 15:30 hours on Monday 11th August 2014 but he stated he was lost and looking for the A38. The male is described as approx. 35-45 years 5ft 6in messy brown hair and has front teeth missing. He was believed to have talked with a local accent. At the time he was stopped he was wearing dark clothing and appeared to have streaks of paint on it.

Advice on post coding some of your equine equipment -

Horse tack/equipment can be marked by using a stamp kit, this can also be done on stirrups if the saddles are Synthetic. Bridles can also be security marked using the kit. This can assist officers if property is ever recovered from Warrants or when suspicious vehicles have been stopped and property has been seized.

Power tools and other items i.e. Lawnmowers/strimmers can be marked by either -

- UV Marker Pen– Postcode and property name/number is written on the property. It is invisible to the naked eye. But is clearly seen under UV light.
- Forensic coding Smart Water – This item contains a unique code

Please ensure pictures are taken of your property, including serial numbers.

Bikes can be post coded using Security marking strips that have the postcode written down on. These are then wrapped around the frame of the bike making it very hard to remove. Bikes can also be security marked with either Smartwater or by using a UV marker pen on the frame.

Ragwort: Help Us Get the Facts

Every year, The British Horse Society is inundated with concerns from members about ragwort, which can cause much damage to horses. Many of those responsible for horses' care invest large amounts of resource, both through labour and expense, in trying to control this weed. The British Horse Society have taken these serious concerns on board, and are delighted to announce that they are working with Defra to launch a major new research project to assess current levels of awareness and concern about ragwort and how it affects horses in England. The survey is running until Sunday 31 August 2014, and can be accessed through the Society's website at www.bhs.org.uk/ragwort. To read more on why this survey is being held and how the information gathered will be used visit www.bhs.org.uk/our-charity/press-centre/news/july-to-dec-2014/ragwort-survey

The Felixstowe & District Safer Neighbourhood Team are asking dog walkers in Felixstowe to help police sniff out crime as part of a new 'Paws on Patrol' initiative.

The scheme, which is supported by Suffolk Coastal District Council, encourages dog walkers to register with the police and then report any suspicious behaviour they may come across whilst out and about, either by calling the non-emergency 101 number, or 999 if they believe a crime is in progress.

The scheme also encourages dog owners to be responsible community members ensuring that they clean up after their pet and it is vaccinated, micro-chipped and wears an ID collar. Once joined-up, a membership pack will be issued and discounts available from supporting dog related businesses.

There will be a registration day on Sunday 3 August at the Blue Cross Dog Show at Trimley Sports and Social Club from 11am where as well as being able to sign-up to the scheme, dog owners will have the opportunity to get their dogs micro chipped for free courtesy of Ryder Davies Vets and the Blue Cross. And officers are encouraging dog owners and walkers to come along and support the Paws on Patrol initiative and the Blue Cross event. If you are interested in joining the scheme, but are unable to make the registration day you can call your Safer Neighbourhood Team on 101.

Theft of Power Tools – (IP28)

Crime Ref: MH/14/1227

Overnight 29 / 30th July powered garden tools were stolen from a stable.

Editor's Note:

Equestrian related crime has been low recently, however thefts of power and gardening equipment from rural establishments continue. In many cases the thefts are from insecure out buildings or items have been left out in the open. Most burglaries are committed by opportunist criminals who happen to see insecure premises where they can help themselves to the property inside. In most cases the burglary could have been prevented. By following a few simple precautions, you can reduce the chance of you becoming a victim of burglary.

- Fit secure locks to all doors. Always leave garages and sheds and outbuildings locked
- Be alert to strangers loitering; if in doubt call the police
- Never leave spare keys in a hiding place such as under a doormat, in a flowerpot or inside the letterbox
- Ensure valuables are suitably security marked; if not practicable, take photographs of valuable items and keep a note of any serial numbers. Register all items with serial and / or identifiable marks on www.immobilise.com
- Visible burglar alarms make burglars think twice; consider fitting an alarm to outbuildings and possibly a perimeter alarm. Get specialist advice and consult your insurance company.
- Keep any ladders locked
- Keep expensive garden equipment and furniture locked in a shed overnight or when you are away. Tools such as spades and forks can be used to lever open doors
- Provide good lighting and fit movement detectors
- Ensure trailers are immobilised with a good quality hitch lock and wheel clamps.
- Keep keys to ride on mowers, quad bikes etc secure in at home.

- Have you been a victim of crime, or know someone who has?
- Do you work with and provide support services to victims of crime?

The Warwickshire Police and Crime Panel has set up a dedicated group to review existing support services for victims of crime, which will focus specifically on the successes and gaps in supporting victims and provide an assessment of local need. A key part of the review is to listen to the views of the people who have first-hand experience of those support services – either the victims of crime, or those that support them.

This is a crucial piece of work that will help the Police and Crime Commissioner in his ongoing work to commission victim services in the future and it is important that those services reflect victim needs and priorities. National research of best practice support to victims demonstrates that it should:

- Be equally accessible across the county;
- Have an approach that puts the needs of the victim at the heart of the system;
- Be multi-agency, where appropriate;
- Provide support to victims of anti-social behaviour and hate crime;
- Have consistent, specialised provision for victims of domestic and sexual violence; and
- Provide specialised support for children and young people. ('Listening and learning: Improving support for victims in Warwickshire', VSA project)

If you wish to share your experiences and views, or make suggestions about how existing services could be improved, please contact the Panel using the contact details below:
